

TO MAKE STRAW HATS

Another Fine Industry Will Come to This City.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE COMPLETED

By Which Grand Rapids Secures a Factory Employing Upwards of Two Hundred Men and Women.

Grand Rapids has secured a fine new industry at the expense of Adrian.

The industry is the manufacture of women's straw hats. The factory in Adrian has been operated for several years by the firm of Adams, Rayson & Co., and now employs from 250 to 300 persons, of whom two-thirds are women, and one-third men. No children are employed. In the formation of the new Grand Rapids stock company Mr. Adams retires. The local stockholders are J. Edward Earle, W. S. Earle, President Welch of the Welch Folding Bed company, S. S. Corl of Corl Knott & Co., W. C. Kneel, representative of the Standard Oil company in Chicago, T. D. Gilbert, Judge Perkins, James H. Martin, Charles McQueen, Thomas W. Puck, Ph. C. Fuller, E. A. Stone and N. W. Northrop. Mr. Kneel will be the manager of the concern. The consideration is $25,000. The factory will be removed here about June 15.

The factory is one of a very few of this kind in the country and manufactures women's hat shapes. The work is all upon advance orders and the business is reported to be very profitable. The shapes are made in some instances from plaster of paris patterns, in others pressed from zinc patterns. The variety of patterns of course is great.

CAUGHT A BURGLAR

The Police Capture a Man With the Aid of Charles Findlater.

Last evening at 8 o'clock a telephone message was received at the police station stating that a man had been caught at the corner of Tenth and Scribner streets and was being held until the arrival of an officer. The patrol wagon was dispatched to the relief of the citizen who had telephoned and when the officers arrived they found that Charles W. Findlater, a traveling man, residing at No. 313 Scribner street, had caught a burglar and had him in possession. The prisoner was taken into custody and locked up at police headquarters. Mr. Findlater was passing along the street when he saw two men moving around the rear of The Rev. L. H. Davis' residence. The family was at church and the house was dark. He ran into the yard and caught one of the intruders. The other was managed to keep out of his way and told him to "strike him (Findlater) over the head with that gun." About that time Findlater heard the clink of an iron on a stone by the side of his prisoner. He had dropped a jimmy, which was afterwards found. It is a heavy instrument, eighteen inches in length. The prisoner's pal made his escape, but he was closely marked by Findlater, who gave the following description of him: About 24 years old, five feet eleven inches in height, weight 170 pounds, light complexion, smooth face, dressed in gray trousers, dark overcoat, Scotch cap, light flannel shirt and dark tie. The prisoner, who was locked up at police headquarters, gave the name of Bert Ulery.

MORE WORK HERE

R. L. Pulk & Co. Will Establish a Central Office in This City.

R. L. Pulk & Co., the directory publishers whose general office is in Detroit, are making preparations to establish a district center in this city for Western Michigan, the line extending north and south and as far east as Lansing. All of the work in this district will then be published here, while heretofore all but the directory for this city and one or two others have been taken to the Detroit publishing house.

The manager here states that the canvassers for this year's directory show more over more territory than they had last year at this time and that the canvass will be completed in about ten days.

City News in Brief

The action of the commissioners of police advising the doubling of dues in the Police Benefit association will, if followed, cause the death of the association. Many of the men feel as if they could not afford to pay more than they are at present paying, and would like to give a benefit dance to improve the funds.

The first annual meeting of the Political Equality club will be held at the residence of Mrs. E. R. Ketchum, No. 414 West Bridge street, Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and such other business as may come before it. A full attendance is earnestly desired.

Senator Doran has been invited by President Angell to attend the commencement exercises of the university. The invitation also bears a request to him to prepare a speech for the usual dinner of the faculty and invited guests. He will accept.

Prof. Stenhouse of Detroit is expected here tomorrow to arrange for "Living White," which is to be given by the St. Cecilia society April 2 and 4.

One fancy shirt, with three collars and two pairs of link cufflinks for sale at anything in the market. Gardner & Baxter, shirt maker.

Personal

M. C. Barber and wife and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hendrick will leave this week for Houston, Tex., where they will reside hereafter. They expect to build and operate a stove mill in Houston and are enthusiastic over the climate of that section.

Miss Allie Z. Straight is home from her trip to Paris. Among other trophies of her visit is a photograph of Worth, presented by the great ladies' tailor in person.

Dr. C. H. Winton and wife and their mother Dan Winton are in North Manchester, Ind., attending the funeral of Dr. Horace Winton, father of the latter.

Mrs. Lillie B. Egan of Monroe, the newly appointed assistant librarian, is a sister of Mrs. L. G. Stuart of this city.

Mrs. Eliza Scribner of No. 51 State street has a copy of the New York Post published November 7, 1783.

Martin L. Sweet has been elected first vice president of the American Hotel-keepers' association.

Mrs. P. H. Carroll, who has been seriously ill at St. Mark's from typhoid fever, is recovering.

Mrs. John Patton, Jr., will be one of the patronesses for the junior hop at Ann Arbor April 7.

News of the Churches

At the song service at St. Mark's last evening the principal numbers were as follows:

Prayer for the Peace of Jerusalem. Knox

Solo—There is a Green Hill. Grand

Anthems—Lord, How Long. Mendelssohn

Men Chamberlains and Chorus

Anthems—Blessing and Honor. Boyce

The women of St. Paul's Episcopal church will give a bazaar shortly after Easter.

Funeral of Thomas J. W. Porter.

The funeral of Thomas J. W. Porter was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, No. 983 North College avenue. The house was crowded with old residents of this city and county and friends of the deceased. The floral tributes were numerous and pretty, especially a pillar composed of Easter lilies and English violets on which was neatly worked the word "Rest," which was presented by the employees of Porter's machine shop. The other pieces were a sheaf of wheat by the F. C. club and a sickle by friends. Mr. J. K. Ruff and Rockford pronounced the funeral ceremonies and delivered a brief address. The remains were carried to their last resting place by the following old settlers: Samuel Kuttis, Alfred Sales, Asa Slayton, Samuel White, A. L. Wheeler and Mr. Shaver. The deceased was born in the town of Keeno, N. H., November 21, 1812. When 21 years of age he located in Royalton, O. On Christmas day, 1842, he was married to Miss Sarah Wilkinson, who survives him. Thirty years ago last September he came to the Grand Rapids valley, where he has since resided. During his residence here he was intimately connected with the history and development of the city and county. Six children, three sons and three daughters, were born to the family and all are now living. He was for many years connected with Porter's machine shop on the West Side.

Fox Battery Election.

A vacancy in Battery A, Fox Light artillery, is caused by the resignation of Second Lieut. J. H. Brown, who leaves soon for Australia. Three candidates are selected by the members to fill the office, Sergt. F. O. Day, Private M. A. McGurran and Corporal C. Howard. Sergeant Day was elected first lieutenant when the battery held its first election, but was defeated for office at the last election. M. A. McGurran is a new member of the battery and is a graduate of Troop A, cavalry, of Chicago. Corporal Howard at one time wore the shoulder straps of second lieutenant, but was defeated for office at the last election.

Homes for Children

EDITOR GRAND RAPIDS HERALD:—Please accept my heartfelt thanks for your kindness to one in the work of R. H. R. A. With the kind aid of your paper, and the other papers of the city, I have been able to secure homes for little ones, and little ones for homes, and also have received a number of donations. I have some boys I wish homes for. I also have a good home for a girl 8 or 10 years old.

Yours for the little ones.

Mrs. N. J. Van Dine,

No. 62 Park avenue.

Dr. McPherson's Horse Returns.

Dr. McPherson's horse, that was driven away early yesterday morning, returned about 7 o'clock without a strap on it, and with evidence of having been badly used. The empty carriage was found near Herkey & Gay's barn unpurged. The harness, a single strap one with white tarred, a gray wool robe, a green and black plaid blanket and a whip are still missing. It is thought the horse was taken to the city and driven and turned him loose. The paraphernalia of the rig is thought to have been stolen.

Big Prohibition Day

The prohibitionists announce an interesting program for the conference to be held in Hartman's lecture room next Friday afternoon. They aim to make a red letter prohibition day for the county. In the evening there will be a grand rally in the large hall to be addressed by Samuel J. Dickie, chairman of the national committee, and the Hon. Jasper S. Hughes of Chicago, former candidate for governor of Indiana.

Arrested for Dog Fighting.

James Wampo was arrested yesterday morning at the Bridge street house by Detective Kennedy on a charge of dog fighting. The disorderly act consisted of attempting to incite a dog fight. He had a big ugly bull dog and set him on a passing grayhound. This aroused the indignation of bystanders and a complaint was made against him. Dog fighting is prohibited by a state law, but Wampo pleaded ignorance of the law when arrested.

A House-Warming

The work of remodeling The New Livingston is almost completed, and Messrs. Irish will give a house warming by Samuel J. Dickie, chairman of the national committee, and the Hon. Jasper S. Hughes of Chicago, former candidate for governor of Indiana.

Looked for a Fight

Saturday evening rumors of a prize fight were all about the city. The police were sent out in all directions to watch the crowd and prevent any disturbance. A half dozen men were sent to watch the crowd and prevent any disturbance. The watch was kept up until 2:30, when the men expected all quiet and were called in.

WILL OPEN THE BALL

The Spring Campaign to Begin This Week.

"AVAILABLE" CANDIDATE OUT

Harvey Will Not Be Nominated for Mayor—Populists to Keep in the Middle This Time.

This is to be a week of city caucuses and conventions. On Tuesday night the democrats will hold their caucuses and on Wednesday night their city convention. The populists hold caucuses on Wednesday night and their convention Thursday night. On the latter evening will be held the republican caucuses, and the week will end on Saturday night with the nomination of the ticket that is to win out two weeks from today.

Democrat leaders who were seen yesterday could only conceal the feeling that their proposed slate received a severe blow in the absolute declaration of C. L. Harvey to accept the nomination for mayor.

Mr. Harvey has pushed an unopposed and absolute withdrawal and no further attempt will be made to persuade him to go in. Within the past week the name of L. M. Turner and other leading candidates had been seldom heard. The leaders had agreed that Harvey was the "available" candidate and had called on him in such numbers that it finally became a question of either "fish or cut the bait." He chose the latter. The two most likely candidates that remain are Isaac M. Turner and Al. S. White, and the question uppermost in the democratic mind is which can roll the largest vote. Mr. White has said that he doesn't want to run, but a strong influence may be brought to bear upon him within the coming two days. The main objection to Mr. Turner is the fear that he may lose some votes from his own strongly democratic ward on account of his opposition as alderman to cutting West Fulton street through John Ball park.

It is generally conceded that Mayor Stuart will again be honored by a unanimous nomination, notwithstanding his request that some other be chosen. Little is said about a people's party slate, but it is understood that an absolute middle of the road policy will be pursued as to every office. It is probable that they will nominate McBride, Moulton, Howell or Tea for mayor; Greenway for clerk and Welton for treasurer.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

The Rev. George N. Smith Discusses Dr. Shepard's Attributes.

The Rev. George N. Smith conducted memorial services for Dr. Shepard yesterday morning, and many persons outside of the regular membership filled the little sanctuary church at the corner of Lyon and Division streets. Mr. Smith read two selections, the ninth Psalm, and Matt. xxv, 14-23. His text was taken from Matt. xvi, 21: "His Lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things; enter thou into the joy of the Lord."

After calling attention to the thought contained in the text, he spoke of the character of Dr. Shepard as a citizen. He possessed two traits of character rarely found in his class, near at Z figures. Five days only. Let Pierce tell you. First floor Mich. Trust Co. Bldg., Pearl street entrance. Sale closes March 23.

The Nurses of St. Mark's Will Occupy It Today.

The new Kendall home is ready for occupancy and the nurses of St. Mark's will move from their present quarters at No. 113 Boottick street today and occupy the new building. The home is not entirely furnished yet, but everything will be completed this week, and it is expected it can be thrown open for inspection next Sunday. The home has accommodations for twenty-five nurses. The interior finishing of the rooms is all in white pine. Each room contains a bed, a dresser and two chairs, and has a closet for clothes. The bed frames are of iron and are as simple as possible. Each bed is furnished with green wire springs and hair mattresses. The beds on the first floor are red and on the second floor white. The dressers are of English oak and birch-eyes maple. Part of the rooms are single and others are designed to furnish accommodations for two nurses. On each floor is a bath room.

In the northwest corner of the first floor is a reception room, prettily and daintily furnished. The main hall of the second floor will be used for a library. On the north side of the building opening from the second floor is a pleasant piazza. In the east end of the basement is a lecture room with accommodations for fifty students. The medical library will be placed in this room. The rooms of the night nurses and of the matron also are in the basement. The building is lighted by gas and heated by steam.

The floors are painted and waxed only are used. There is no chance for the filthy bacilli and the air is constantly renewed to avoid over from the hospital and bad odors. The furniture is simple, but it is neat and pretty. The Kendall estate furnished the first floor of the house.

The remainder of the furniture has, in a large part, been contributed by business firms of the city. The home is very comfortable and the nurses of St. Mark's welcome the rest and comfort that it will afford them.

Superior to All Others

Alcock's Porous Plasters are the great external remedy of the day. The quickest, safest, surest, best. Not only immeasurably superior to all other plasters, but also to liniments, ointments, oils and similar unctuous compounds.

Beware of imitations and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Alcock's and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

The North Galveston Brick Plant

The kiln of red pressed brick that was opened a few days ago at North Galveston, Tex., revealed a quality of material which was pronounced by experts as fully equal in density, durability and color to the best St. Louis pressed brick. The North Galveston Brick company is a pretty big concern. The machines, buildings, yards and general capacity equals some of the best plants in the country. More factories being built, a steady increase in population and an abundant influx of capital seems to be the present record of this thrifty young city and its particular neighbor, Galveston. W. R. Scribner, Grand Rapids, Mich., the local agent, or address the North Galveston Association, Box 965, Minneapolis, Minn.

Glad Easter Time

Brings joyous news, but none so interesting to the ladies as the announcement of Corl, Knott & Co., that they will hold their Easter opening Tuesday and Wednesday, March 28 and 29. All the very newest imported novelties and latest styles in spring millinery will be shown.

Returned From the East

Mrs. Adams returned from an extended eastern and southern trip last Saturday. While away she selected an elegant line of millinery novelties, the like of which has never before displayed to the public. Gists of rich and elegant trimmings, ornaments, etc., were especially selected for the millinery opening, which takes place three days before Easter.
